

Srinivasan Iyengar

I am an engineering and business management (MBA) graduate having 20 years of experience in software product development in telecom, aviation areas and financial services sector with focus on risk management, solution delivery, governance and regulatory engagement.

I live locally with my wife and two young children.