

I can look closely at the natural world and discuss what I see.

Nursery

Reception

I can talk about 3 or more places where I go regularly.

I can talk about how the natural and manmade world can differ.

In Geography, one off skills lessons are important but they need to be revisited and reinforced so that children retain what they learn. Where learning is revisited, Orange = skill first taught Yellow = first planned revisit with an expectation of deeper understanding Green = second planned revisit with an expectation that skill will be applied in a more complex Context.

Believe to achieve