November in History

100 years ago...

Tutankhamun's tomb was discovered by Howard Carter. This amazing historic event changed how historians understand the Egyptian Empire and culture from Ancient times. What discovery would you like to make as a Historian? Perhaps you are hoping for a lost Shakespeare play, or the diary of King Henry 8th? Perhaps you are hoping to find Blackbeard's lost treasures or the remains of Atlantis! You could write a diary, just like Howard Carter, to describe what it would be like finding this Historical artefact.

Love our Libraries

Tom Percival is a fantastic author who focuses on themes that help children to develop positive mental health. For KS1, check our Ruby's Worry and Perfectly Norman. In KS2, you could continue reading the series you have started in Reading Assembly by checking out Silas and the Marvellous Misfits or Chanda and the Devious Doubt. You could write a book review for Midnight Marvel to read.

Sporting Spectacular

On the 20th November, the England men's football team begin their campaign at the 2022 World Cup in Qatar. Fans all around the country will be waiting to see if the men's team can follow the success of the Women, who won the European Championship, earlier this year.

To get into the spirit of the tournament, why not create a flag or a poster to support the nation of your choice.

Marvellous Mental Health

Using the image as an inspiration, make your own poster to celebrate the brilliant person that you are! You could ask a grown up or friend to help you to think of some of the many things that make you wonderfully unique.
